

Lea's special talk (Podcast)

october 25th, 2023

Hi guys welcome to my special chapter of my podcast. This is Lea.

Today's topic is "personal journals."

I would like to share about myself and my background with those who don't really know about me yet. And I hope you will get to know me better.

Okay let's get started!!!

First of all my name is Lea Fujimoto. I was born in the US on September 21st, 2004. After a couple of months my parents took me back to Japan and I was raised in Japan for 15 years.

I went to a private girls school from grade 1 and I was going to the same school for 12 years until I decided to study abroad.

So I went to Saskatchewan, Canada at the age of 15 and my new chapter of my journey has started.

After a couple of months the Covid has started. My school got cancelled for half a year. So I was mostly spending my time with my homestay family. And after a year and a half I moved to Vancouver Canada and I did my 11th and 12th grade there and I graduated.

I didn't want to stay in Canada for university. I wanted to try something new so since my mom was in London UK for her business I decided to move there and live with my mom.

And I got into UAL and I am recording myself here in UAL right now.

This is my journey.
